WARDROBE MISTRESS.CO.UK
 Whether you're looking to clear some space in your wardrobe, or add a timeless new designer piece to your collection, we think you'll love this new luxury fashion market place complete with inspirational style blog. Born out of founder Francesca Salih's love of designer clothes, the site provides style-savvy customers with a hassle-free way to buy and sell pre-loved designer clothes, and an immense feeling of fashion karma. Better yet, you can book an at-home consultation with one of the Wardrobe Mistress experts, who will whip your existing wardrobe into shape, give you personal styling tips and can even offer you a personal shopping service. So what are you waiting for? Get online and grab yourself an early Christmas present: we've got our eyes on an Anya Hindmarch bag and an Azzedine Alaïa leather jacket, both good as new, and at a fraction of the original cost.

FABRIC RECOMMENDS: DR DUVE AT MICHAEL JOHN

It's a familiar story: stress and late nights (and the resulting alcohol consumption) had been taking their toll on my skin. Drastic action needed to be taken, so I went to meet skincare guru Dr Duve at the ever-popular Michael John salon in Mayfair. Having reassured me that my skin wasn't that bad - obviously a charming and convincing liar as well as a dermatologist! - Dr Duve prescribed me the satisfyingly industrial-sounding Jet Peel 3 System 'Freshlift Facial'. My therapist, Louise - ask for her by name, she is a miracle worker - took over, first of all cleansing and toning my skin, before firing up the Jet Peel 3 machine. This wasn't as scary as it sounds: it acts like a very small-scale power hose, simultaneously deep-cleansing and gently exfoliating the skin. After a collagen mask was applied, while Louise administered the most incredible neck and shoulder massage I've ever experienced. With me feeling suitably relaxed, she then applied Dr Duve's blend of vitamin C and his own serum, containing growth factors, again using the Jet Peel 3 System to penetrate deep down into the skin. I confess to actually falling asleep - testimony to both utter relaxation and the late nights - but the best part was that the friend I was meeting afterwards genuinely didn't believe I had no make-up on. Add them to your speed-dial pronto! KH £110 for one hour. Michael John, 25 Atherstone Street, W2 (020 7629 6909; www.michaeljohn.co.uk)

WE LOVE: NUBO WHITE DIAMOND ICE GLOW MASK

No time for a facial? You'll love this brand new at-home treatment from boutique skincare brand NUBO, which will have you furrow-free and party ready in just a quarter of an hour. Simply 'steam' the your face using a hot flannel to open the pores, then apply the mask to your skin: a thin layer on the forehead and a generous amount on the rest of your face, neck and décolleté. Relax whilst leaving the mask on for 10-15 minutes. Finally, rinse with warm water, revealing rejuvenated, glowing skin. We're converts - and the sparkly packaging is to die for, too.

£100 for 50ml from Harrods, Fenwick's Bond Street and www.nubobeaauty.com
